

CITY NEWS

A son, Henry Amby, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McCauley, Sunday at Northfield.

Mrs. S. H. Watkins, wife of the rector of St. Paul's, who is ill with pneumonia in New York, is said to have passed the crisis and to be out of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Wilkins of Morrisville are the parents of a baby boy, born at the Mary Fletcher hospital Saturday night.

Frank C. Lyon has sold to Ralph S. Cutting the house at 35 South Union, known as the W. W. Walker house, which Mr. Lyon recently purchased.

Mrs. Lucile Seymour and William Curley were married at St. Joseph's Church at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by Monsignor Jerome M. Cooney.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moniere, and two children, a son and a daughter, Gerald Zeno, brother of Mr. Moniere, left Friday for Denver, Colo., where they intend to make their home.

In probate court yesterday there were settlements and decrees in the estates of Jennie Rosenberg and John Beau, both late of Burlington. The will of Frank W. Elliott, late of this city, was filed for probate.

F. B. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee of South Union street, has just been elected a director of the New York State Association of Retail Lumber, Cash and Door Salesmen, at a convention held in Syracuse. Mr. Lee resides in Utica.

Dr. Edmund L. Desautels has received notice of his appointment as dental examiner for Chittenden county of the United States Public Health Service of Washington, D. C. Dr. Desautels' office is located at East Allen street, Winslow.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Newark, N. J., have returned to Newark after spending three months in this city at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien of 38 Hayward street. They were married at St. Leo's Cathedral in Newark by the Rev. Father Flanagan.

R. M. Douglass, a brother of James Douglass of Essex Junction and a brother-in-law of the late Albert G. Douglass of this city, has just been elected a director of the National Farm Loan association of Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Douglass resides in Covina, a suburb of Los Angeles.

More than 50 employees of the W. G. Reynolds company enjoyed a sleigh-ride to Williston Thursday, starting directly after the store closed. There they enjoyed a chicken dinner served by the company, Katz's orchestra furnishing the music. The chaperons were Mrs. E. Blodgett and Miss Adele Morrill.

At the annual meeting of the Young Women's Hebrew association, held at the Hebrew Free school Sunday afternoon, the following officers were elected: President, Miss Rose Levin; secretary, Miss Samuel Samuelson; treasurer, Miss Fannie Rothman; chairman of the entertainment committee, Miss Eva Flax. Resolutions were served.

An apron and necktie leap year party will be given under the auspices of the Daughters of Isabella at the Van Ness House Friday evening, February 6. Dancing will be the feature of the affair, which will be held at 10 o'clock. The chaperons for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dower, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Beaupre, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Leary and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Daigle.

The Leader-Evaporator company of Burlington has entered in Chittenden county court, through its attorney, C. P. Cowles, a suit to recover the sum of $200 from A. S. Black of Guilford. Others summoned to appear in the case as trustees are L. E. Aldrich and Ray Gates of Guilford and Earl Henry of Brattleboro.

Maxwell Hatch of Groton filed a petition in bankruptcy Thursday. The liabilities are $2,500 and his assets $200. The only assets given are eight shares of stock in the Groton Telephone company at a par value of $25 each. The biggest liability is a note for $2,000, which is now in the form of a judgment in Caledonia county court.

In probate court Friday the wills of Electa P. Ruger and John Moylan, late of Milton and Burlington, respectively, were presented for probate. They were settlements and decrees in the estates of Electa P. Ruger and John Moylan, late of Milton and Burlington, respectively. They were presented for probate. They were settlements and decrees in the estates of Electa P. Ruger and John Moylan, late of Milton and Burlington, respectively.

At a meeting Thursday evening of the University Alumnae club it was voted to assist Miss Terrill in the support of a Serbian girl at the university. It is hoped that through the club all men who have been students at the university will be given opportunity to contribute. Mrs. Votey, Mrs. Thinhkam and Mrs. Crane are the committee which has the work in charge.

The co-operative creamery men from the northern part of the State, who held a meeting in this city a few months ago for the purpose of organizing, will meet Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Messrs. Bradford, president of the Turner Center system, and Tupper at the Sherwood Hotel. Representatives from the northern Vermont creameries have already made arrangements to be present at that time.

Thursday a surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beauchemin, the occasion being the anniversary of their wedding. The couple were invited over to the house of Charles Beauchemin, where a party of friends walked in. The evening was spent with cards and music. A feature was a large wedding cake which formed the center piece in the dining room. The decorations were yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

News has been received in Burlington of the recent death of Philip Sherman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Sherman of White Plains, N. Y., and a very promising lad who has spent several summers at Cedar Beach. The young man was ill with a cold, which developed into pneumonia, and this soon proved fatal. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman were planning to come to Cedar Beach, with their two children, again this summer. Philip was the oldest child, the younger being a daughter.

The union barber shops of this city and Winslow have increased the price of hair cutting and shaving, beginning Monday. The increased cost of materials as well as living are given in this case as the reason for the increase. Hair cuts in the future will be 50 cents instead of 35 cents, and shaves will be increased five cents from 15 cents to 20 cents. This is the first increase in the price of hair cuts and shaves in a considerable time, although some increases were made in other lines a few months ago.

Lieut. Col. Henry B. McIntyre, medical corps, United States Army, son of Mrs. McIntyre of Randolph and 129 South Union street, this city, and Miss Gladys Evelyn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Miller of Mamarene, N. Y., were married at St. Thomas's Church in Mamarene last Saturday.

Lieut. Col. McIntyre, who was for some time a member of the class of 1900 at the University of Vermont, is now stationed at General Hospital, No. 2, Fort McPherson, Baltimore, Md.

A suit for divorce was entered in Chittenden county court yesterday by Frances

OBITUARY

Charles Edward Putney

It is not uncommon for a man to be beloved—most men gather about them some little circle in which they find a measure of kindly regard and a degree of protection against the world without. But it is not for many men that the cup of affection is so full as it was for Charles Edward Putney, who died at his home, 55 Cliff street, Tuesday after a two weeks' illness, following a general breakdown.

It was the glory of some ancient cities that they needed no walls, because the quality of their own sons was their sufficient protection. Mr. Putney had that within him, which disarmed the world. He was a fine and minute scholar; he was a patient and considerate instructor; he was warm and sympathetic; there he was a high and noble man.

There are few whose names could bring so cordial a response from so wide a circle. In the many years during which he served as a teacher, how many boys and girls have grown his hands! Under each he left some impression—stamped some thing of his own personality—to be carried with them broadcast. And how wholesome a thing that was, and how well for the nation that a spirit like that should be disseminated. They came back some times, which had $200 beds, and Dr. Mitchell was the chief surgeon. During the war more than 300,000 soldiers were treated in this hospital, and a million and a half men went through there on their way home.

More than 100 couples attended the annual dance of the telephone operators held in the Van Ness dining room Thursday evening. The dance was tastefully decorated with purple, white, and yellow crepe paper, extending from the chandeliers, which was almost covered with streamers, to the four corners of the room. The Van Ness orchestra furnished music from nine o'clock. Punch and wafers were served. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hyland, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McCreedy. The committee in charge was Miss Catherine Middleton, Miss Adelaide Towne, Miss Mary Conney, Miss Helen Lynch, Miss Eva Childs, Miss Marjorie Salsus and Miss Elizabeth Peck.

The Rutland railroad surgeons held their annual meeting Friday at the Hotel Vermont and elected Dr. G. H. Branch of Grand Isle, president; Dr. J. H. Reed, vice-president, and Dr. S. S. Hopkins of Colchester, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee will consist of Drs. W. Stickle, L. H. Rose and A. L. Rust. This was the 15th annual meeting. The meeting began at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. G. G. Marshall gave a very interesting talk on his experiences in the military service. Dr. Stickle, who is operating surgeon behind the lines of France, told of his work, and Dr. Thomas Mitchell proved the third interesting speaker. In the evening, Dr. E. H. Nichols of Boston took up the subject of the importance of the nurse, giving his address at the Medical College.

Charles Edward Putney, the son of David and Mary Putney, was born at Bow, N. H., February 26, 1840. He was one of fourteen children, of whom ten lived to grow to manhood and womanhood. David Putney was a farmer and Mr. Putney's early years were spent on the farm. He attended district school and went later to Colby Academy, teaching district schools from time to time, and preparing himself to enter Dartmouth College, which he was just to do when the Civil War broke out.

He enlisted in the 13th New Hampshire Volunteers, and later became a sergeant. He was in the war over three years, taking part in the battles of Fredericksburg, Siege of Vicksburg, and the Battle of Gettysburg. He was discharged at the end of the war, and returned to his home in Bow, N. H., where he remained until the spring of 1891, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

He had been in Burlington for a few years, when he was called to the position of superintendent of the schools of the Templeton district in Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1901, when he came to Burlington as a teacher in the high school.

Later, he had a position with the Halifax Technical College at Halifax, N. S., and then gave up teaching for design and structural work with the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Co. of Coatsville, Pa. Since last October he had been at Syracuse.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hazel P. Putney; by a son, seven years of age, and a daughter, four; by his parents and by a brother, Earl S. Haight. The body was brought Tuesday to Northfield for funeral services at the home of Mrs. Haight's parents.

Frank S. Isham of Morrisville died at the Fanny Allen hospital Thursday evening following an operation. He was 28 years of age and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. W. Barrows, and by one brother, W. H. Isham, both of Morrisville. The remains were sent to Morrisville Friday morning.

William H. Kelley News has been received in this city of the death in Glens Falls, N. Y., of William H. Kelley, whose death occurred in the hospital there after an illness of three months.

Mr. Kelley was 62 years of age and is survived by his wife, by three sons, Edward of Springfield, Mass., Charles of Cleveland, Ohio, and George of Buffalo, N. Y.; and by one daughter, Mrs. Frank Leonard of Mechanicville, N. Y. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. James True of Rutland, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. George True, both of Albany, N. Y.

Rita Polasanti Rita, the nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Polasanti of 30 Spring street, died at 11:50 o'clock Saturday night of pneumonia. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Church at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with burial in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Miss Mary Maack After a long illness, Miss Mary Maack of 35 North Winslow avenue passed away Friday evening at seven o'clock. Miss Maack was a woman of strong character and impressed all who knew her with her Christian spirit and unflinching faith. She was born May 20, 1838, at the old homestead in Winslow, where she was the daughter of Frederick and Laura (Van Sicken) Maack, and was the last of a family of ten children. During her residence in Burlington of nearly 40 years she had made many friends who will long cherish her memory. She was an adherent of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Miss Maack is survived by a niece and four nephews, Mrs. Charlotte Maack Tracy, W. F. B. H. and J. H. Maack of Shelburne, and Charles L. Barstow of New York city.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon and the remains were placed in the vault at Lake View cemetery, to await burial in the spring at Shelburne.

Walter B. Storey While returning from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Cassidy of Hinesburg, Walter B. Storey of Georgia died suddenly of a heart attack while he was riding out of the cutter in which he was taking a ride where he was found later. Mr. Storey left the Cassidy home about nine o'clock Tuesday morning with a horse and cutter. About a half hour later Mr. Cassidy, driving over the same road, saw some one lying on the ground, and stopped to see what was the matter. He found that it was Mr. Storey. He was dead and apparently had fallen from the cutter after death. The horse was stopped farther up the road by neighbors.

Mr. Storey was 70 years old and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Judd of Georgia. The body was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy and was removed to Georgia Tuesday.

Charles A. LaMay Charles Allison LaMay, a veteran of the Civil War, died Monday evening at his home in Burlington. He was 76 years of age, his daughter, Mrs. Harry Rock, at 31 Pearl street, died of pneumonia aged 76 years. Mr. LaMay's home was in Bristol and he was here on a visit. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. O. H. Plank of Bristol, the Misses Celia and Nellie LaMay of Burlington and two sons, Edward of Bridgeport, Conn., and Ralph of Burlington.

The body was taken to Bristol Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. M. W. O'Neill Mrs. Eliza May O'Neill, wife of M. Wetmore of West Rutland, died Tuesday morning at 3:30 o'clock at a local institution. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Corbin & Frye and later taken to her late home at West Rutland.

Frank W. Elliott Many friends and business acquaintances were shocked to learn of the death of Frank W. Elliott, who died suddenly Saturday evening after an illness of a few hours' duration with pancreatic trouble.

Frank W. Elliott was born in Waterbury, September 14, 1873, the son of William R. and Electa Stevens Elliott, and was educated in the common schools of Waterbury, and graduated from Goddard Seminary. In early life he entered the Waterbury National bank, leaving that institution in 1902 to take a position with the Burlington Trust company of this city. He served that institution faithfully for 24 years, reaching the position of assistant to the president of the Howard National bank, later becoming one of the vice-presidents and manager of the bank, which position he held at the time of his death.

He was an exceptionally strong and successful banker, who operated a successful business, which was held throughout the State, and will be greatly missed among the banking circles of the State.

About 15 years ago he took over the active management of his father's lumber business at Burlington. He was a member of the Burlington Yacht club, of which he had been president. He was a member and served as treasurer for many years of Washington Lodge, No. 3, A. F. and A. M., also a member of Burlington Chapter, R. A. M., Burlington Lodge, No. 916, B. P. O. E., and the Lake Champlain Yacht club.

The funeral services were held at the College Street Church Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and the body was placed in the vault at Lake View cemetery.

Grant R. Haight Grant R. Haight, 34 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haight of South Burlington, and an instructor in practical engineering in the College of Applied Science at Syracuse University, died Sunday after an illness of four days with influenza and pneumonia.

After graduating from Norwich University at Northfield, Mass., he was employed for several years as an instructor in civil engineering in Ohio State University.

AN EXPECTED RISE (From the Cleveland Plain Dealer) On account of the riots in Egypt, Egyptian cigarettes manufactured in New Jersey from tobacco grown in Virginia may be expected to go up again.

LEGION STRONG FOR MEMORIAL BUILDING

Burlington Post Adopts Resolutions Favoring Project—Paul Ricker Elected Commander at Annual Meeting—Local Has Paid-up Membership of 927

Burlington Post No. 2, American Legion, placed itself on record Tuesday at its first annual meeting, held in the City Hall, as being squarely behind the memorial building project, appreciative of the efforts of Burlington's citizens toward the erection of such a building and ready to support these efforts in every way possible toward securing for Burlington a building which, it is felt, will be an honor to the city as well as a fitting memorial to the men and women who have represented the Queen City in all her wars. These sentiments were expressed by the following resolution, introduced by Paul Ricker and unanimously adopted by the Post:

Whereas, a movement has been initiated looking to the bonding of the city of Burlington in the amount of $250,000 for the purpose of erecting a building which shall be a memorial to the men and women of this city who have served their country in its various wars; and Whereas, our citizens have been asked to express themselves with reference to the memorial building by voting on this question at a special meeting to be held on February sixth; now therefore

Be it resolved, that the Burlington Post of the American Legion—composed as it is of men and women whose pride of place is in the wearing of the uniform in our recent World War—express its appreciation of the action on the part of those patriotic citizens who have conceived this plan, and who are urging its adoption; and

Be it further resolved, that we ask our members to support the efforts of these citizens by voting in favor of this project, and by urging their relatives and friends to vote in its favor.

Other business transacted included the election of officers for the coming year as follows: Post commander, Paul Ricker; vice-commander, Howard S. Crane; adjutant, Norman H. McLeod; finance officer, Charles Worthen; executive committee, John J. Grand, Fred Laing and Carl L. Maloney.

Lloyd Hurlburt, the retiring vice-commander presided at the meeting. Howard A. Allen, retiring adjutant, and C. P. Smith, Jr., retiring finance officer, reported for the year just closed and the reports were accepted and read. The report of the finance officer showed $54.63 on hand February 1, 1920, of which $23.18 belongs to the club room fund and $31.45 to the general fund, from which running expenses are paid. The outstanding bills amounting to $15.20, including a special assessment of dues from the State organization which had not been planned on and, therefore, could not be prepared for. This will have to be covered by the club room fund. The finance officer recommended that a special assessment of 50 cents per member be levied to take care of this outstanding debt.

Paul Ricker reported for the membership committee that the Post now has 927 paid-up memberships. His report was received and accepted, together with a report from the athletic committee, Richard G. Clark, chairman. The adjutant read a letter from the retiring commander, Henry Shaw, now in Washington, D. C., in which the writer commended the good work which the Post is doing and wished a continuance of the prosperity during the coming year.

An amendment to the by-laws was adopted setting the dues at $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly. The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00 per year, instead of $1.00, and making them payable on the first day of January each year, instead of on the first day of December, as formerly.

The raising of dues was made necessary by the action on the part of the national and State organizations in raising the amount required from each membership. At the national convention last November, it was voted that $1.00 from each membership in the "dues" should be sent to National Headquarters, and the balance of the dues to the local organization. The organization's magazine, a recent ruling of the national organization requires 50 cents from each membership, as compared to 25 cents in the past. The new dues, therefore, are $2.00